142014. HARYANA LIQUOR UCENCE RULES, 1970 increase iti the license fee for the year 2013-14 would be charged for renewal of the license of those vends for the year 2014-15. The proportionate license fee for a vend within a group would be computed on the basis of incidence of license fee of that group. For example, if the quota for a group of three vends is 100 proof litres (50 proof litres for vend A, 35 proof litres for vend B and 15 proof litres for vend C) and the license fee of that group for the year 2013-14 is Rs. 200 then the incidence of license fee for the group would be Rs. 200/100 proof i.e. Rs. 2 per proof litre. Accordingly, the proportionate ficense fee for 2013-14 for vend A works out to be 50 x 2 z Rs, 100, for vend B works out 35 x 2 Rs. 70 and for vend C works out 15x2 Rs

30. Accordingly, the computation of license fee for the three vends for the year 2014-15 would be as follows:- Vend A = Rs.100 (assuming that vend A is shifted away from the National Highway/State Highway) vend B = Rs. 70+ of Rs. 70 vend C - Rs. 30 + of Rs. 30 Ox) The department would provide an option to the licensees of the affected vends to shift the affected vend to a conforming location and continue to sell liquor within the group as per the fee structure in Clause (viii) given above. In case the licensee of the affected vends opts to close down the vend for the year 2014-15, the remaining two vends withln the affected group would continue to be operated as such as per the existing provisions of the excise policy 2013-15. The security of the vend along the National Highways/State Highway which is dosed down by the licensee may be either got refunded or got adjusted against the license fee of the other vends of the same group due in the month of April, 2014.1 it36(C).
